

CALL FOR PAPERS

Studia UBB Historia Artium

Studia UBB Historia Artium has been, since 2008, a series of the reputable Studia Universitatis Babeș-Bolyai. Published by the Faculty of History and Philosophy, it is aimed at an academic viewership as well as towards a more general audience interested in Art History in its broadest sense, Cultural Heritage, and Visual Culture as a whole. Each number is set to include not only research articles but also profiles or interviews with relevant actors in the aforementioned fields, as well as an ample section dedicated to book and exhibition reviews. Through the chosen format, the journal is intent on becoming a platform for conversation just as much as a connection between the historiographies and artistic realities in the Central and Eastern European region. Having local and foreign collaborators, a high professional standard, and a scrupulous peer-review process, the journal welcomes contributions from established and early-career researchers, along with doctoral candidates.

Thematic diversity and interdisciplinary approaches and methodologies are thoroughly encouraged. The subject area accommodates interventions on a wide range of topics including but not limited to:

- Art History
- Contemporary Art
- Heritage Studies
- Museum Studies
- Visual Culture

For book, exhibition reviews, and profiles we accept both suggestions and commissions, so please contact the Executive Editors at: historiaartium.studia@ubbcluj.ro.

The deadline for the 2023 issue is 1 September 2023, but we welcome contributions year-round.

Please see the Instructions for Authors for further clarification.

For any inquiries and submissions do not hesitate to get in touch with the editorial team at: historiaartium.studia@ubbcluj.ro.

Studia UBB Historia Artium is indexed in international databases such as CEEOL, EBSCO, ProQuest, ANVUR, BASE, it is officially acknowledged by Romanian National University Research Council (CNCSIS) and is an Open Access Journal since 2021, and since 2023 the publication language is English. It is edited annually and the publishing terms and conditions follow the guidelines and norms of Studia Universitatis Babeș-Bolyai.
